Taylor Barton's COLLEGE RECRUITING SEMINARS

This is the third year that we are offering our Recruiting Seminars. We have had positive feedback from parents and young men and women who have attended one of our seminars. This year we will hold two Recruiting Seminars in Oregon. The first will be on Sunday, May 6 at Lewis and Clark College at 5 p.m. Our second Recruiting Seminar will be held at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon on Sunday, July 15 at 6:30 p.m.

These Recruiting Seminars are intended for both men and women, of all sports. Parents are strongly encouraged to attend, as the recruiting process involves everyone in the family. The seminars are interactive, with athletes and parents both asking questions. The recruiting process is very complex and complicated, so the more educated an athlete and his or her parents are, the more they can help their cause. Taylor Barton has gone through the recruiting process twice. He went through it once out of Beaverton High School in Oregon, and again out of San Francisco City College. He then was behind the scenes as a Graduate Assistant at Oregon State University, where he helped recruit high school athletes. With a very thorough and credible background in this process, Taylor will speak with assistance from a variety of guest speakers. Greg Barton (former collegiate and professional quarterback) will lend his expertise and knowledge of the recruiting process, as he has been helping athletes and families in the area for almost 30 years. Other speakers consist of former and current collegiate players and coaches with at least one speaker representing each collegiate division. Topics will include, in detail, the sliding scale of G.P.A to SAT/ACT scores, Clearinghouse, receiving letters (computer written, hand written), emails, phone calls (when they are allowed), official vs. unofficial visits, scholarship offers, verbal commitments, letters-of-intent, and much more. Handouts will be given and overheads will be shown from actual colleges at different levels in different regions of the country. We will go into detail about how they evaluate perspective student-athletes, through looking at film, watching them in person, and talking to them both on the phone and in person. Every single person will benefit from this seminar. The cost is $25 per person. Refunds will be given in the case of an emergency. Athletes in both middle school and high school will benefit from attending. There are a limited amount of seats in the auditorium, so the first 100 people will be admitted, as the Fire Marshall won't allow one person over that number.

You can email Taylor Barton for more information, questions, and/or to sign up at taylorcharlesbarton@hotmail.com. Please include the names of everyone to be in attendance, the grade your son or daughter will be in the fall, sport, position, the school he/she will attend, best email to be reached at, home phone number, and any and all cell phone numbers.

Taylor Barton's VIDEO AND CHALK TALK

Quarterbacks who want to get ahead of the game need to attend this four session program. Meet with Taylor and Greg Barton for four Sunday's (July 8, 15, 22, 29) at The Hoop in Beaverton. Sessions will be held in a classroom from 3:30-5pm. Each individual is asked to bring a three-ring binder able to store handouts. Each binder should consist of a pouch with a pencil, pen, and highlighter. The binder should also contain lined and blank pieces of paper for note taking and picture drawing. Classes will go through a progression of teaching, reading, and identifying coverage's that are listed below.

- 1 – Cover 0
- 2 – Cover 1 - Free
- 3 – Cover 1 - Hole
- 4 – Cover 2 - Man
- 5 – Cover 2 - Zone
- 6 – Cover 3
- 7 – Cover 4
- 8 – Cover 8
- 9 – Bracket and Combination Coverage's.

The first session will be an overview of the agenda for all of the Sundays. It will be an introduction to the basic concepts of what we expect each individual to learn, understand, and apply by the fourth and final session. On the first day we will introduce the concept of reading and identifying coverage's, as well as the characteristics of being and becoming a leader. Each session will review the previous one, then move on to the current day's topic. Through all four sessions, we will study offensive formations, defensive fronts, defensive alignments, and defensive coverage's on the grease board. We will discuss defensive weaknesses, how to identify them, and how to attack them. We will then go in the gym and walk through what we learned on the grease board in the classroom. From here, we will finish out by looking at college and professional practice and game tapes. We will also discuss how to become a leader and the role that goes with it. Everything we do is interactive, with players encouraged to ask questions and participate. Each individual will greatly improve their knowledge and understanding of the game. Not only will it improve their on the field performance, but it will impress their teammates, coaches, and eventually college coaches. We will also have guest speakers. The cost is $100 for all four sessions or $35 for an individual session. Refunds will be given in the case of an emergency. Due to problems in the past no player can attend unless payments have been received before attending the camp (No exceptions). You can sign up and pay the day of the camp.

To sign up for the Chalk Talk, send check to Taylor Barton at the address listed below or email Taylor Barton at: taylorcharlesbarton@hotmail.com . Please include your son's name, grade next fall, the school he'll be attending, position he plays, best email to be reached at, home phone number, and any and all cell phones.

GROUP DYNAMIC 2007

SUMMER TRAINING SCHEDULE

The Barton Football Camps have been very successful in the winter, spring, and summer over the past ten years. Our camps are geared towards helping skill position players, quarterbacks, and offensive/defensive lineman improve their techniques. Players are put through various drills that teach them skills of the position. Through advanced coaching, and a number of repetitions, they dramatically improve these skills. With the numbers we have, (typically around 150) on the field at one time, to the outside eye it really does resemble a "carnival atmosphere". One of our goals each year is to ensure that each athlete gets plenty of repetitions and coaching, regardless of age, experience, or talent level. We have held camps over the summers that have been very successful. We will continue holding these camps and will also continue helping all of our players improve their game. Three summers ago we added our Group Dynamic Summer Training to our package and the program was a big success. We will be offering this program again this summer.

The program is run over eight weeks and builds off of what our spring camps offered. Workouts are held in the evenings from 6-8pm Sunday-Friday, and noon-2pm on Saturdays. The numbers in these workouts are small (8-20) in comparison to our camps. This gives us the opportunity to have more flexibility to run different drills, utilize more field space, and give each player more individual attention. There are two types of personalized training; the first being one-on-one, and the second consisting of small groups. Small groups give us the best of both worlds. They give us the numbers to run all the drills we want, but also keep the numbers low enough that each athlete gets ample individual attention and instruction. Our workouts are offered to players of all ages, and we do our best to match participants of similar age and experience level. Quarterbacks must bring their own footballs, and are encouraged to bring their own receivers.

We are also open to anyone who wants to put a group together in the morning or afternoon. We require that there be a minimum of six players in the group. This can be beneficial to a group on the same team as we can format workouts to cater to their offense. If night workouts don't work for a number of reasons (baseball, basketball, team workouts, work, etc.), email Taylor Barton at taylorcharlesbarton@hotmail.com and let him know what time and days would work. If there are others requesting similar days and times, we will put a special group together to accommodate everyone.

Greg and Taylor Barton will be in charge and run these groups everyday. They will be assisted by coaches from the Barton Football Academy. Please look at the schedule below and email Taylor Barton at taylorcharlesbarton@hotmail.com to sign up for this program. On your email let him know what dates and payment schedule you want. Also tell him your son's grade next fall and his position. Then go to our site at: www.bartonfootball.com and click on "Paper Registration". Please make a copy of the three pages, sign them and send them to Taylor at the address below. The three pages you will copy and sign are: 1) A registration for the camp, 2) a waiver and 3) a medical release. Once we receive the completed paperwork, along with your payment (check made out to: Taylor Barton), we will send you a confirmation email and your son will be enrolled in the program. No player will be allowed to participate in a workout without signed registration and medical release forms, as well as payment received in full. There will be no exceptions, so please do not ask. The workouts will be held at Highland Middle School in Beaverton, Oregon.

If you are new to our program and not familiar with us, and are not sure you want to commit to a large number of workouts, we recommend that you purchase a single workout. After that workout, if your son feels like it was beneficial and wants to do more, you can then purchase one of the packages we offer. We have designed a program that becomes more cost effective when you purchase a larger volume of workouts. By doing this, it reduces the cost of each individual workout.
